

Bud - It has been great fun sitting next to you this year in composition - you truly helped in making Iruin bearable. We've both become good friends since we met last year in Speech and Geometry. Its funny how things happen. It really is too bad you broke your arm just at the height of your first year on the golf team. It surely wasn't a hole in one when that happened. Better luck next year. I will surely miss you when I'm at U of A getting lost and driving everyone up the wall with Judy Garland data. Your smile is a welcome sight at 9 AM, and it will truly be missed. Good luck in your Senior year, and keep up the good work. Lets be sure to keep in touch. Love Always

Bud, It seems that just when I was getting to know you, I have to move.
 I know I'll never forget you how can I forget such a cute face, besides you have been so nice & sweet. You're very lovable

To Bud
 I hope that you have a nice summer and that I hope that don't brake
 your arm anymore
 I will see you next summer days initiate camps, plays, working

Summer workshops and camps were kept busy passing on their skills to students all over the state. High school journalists spent 11 June days on the NAU campus exchanging ideas and problems.

At Flagstaff's NAU, seniors Steve Dennis, Bruce Francis, Joe Menosky, Bill Scott and Gil Shuga analyzed state government for a week at Boys' State. Karen Hasper, Kathy Pitnikoff, Jill South and Sandlin Stitt, seniors, participated in political elections at U of A's Girls' State in Tucson.

The varsity cheerleaders went to cheer camp in La Jolla, California during the last week of July to learn new cheerleading skills. In August, dons' band, jv band, donettes and jv donettes spent a week in California practicing.

●a Gerald Ford, President of the United States, makes a phone call soon after taking the Presidential oath. Former chief executive, Richard M. Nixon resigned on August 9, following the pressures of Watergate. ●b The band, cheerleaders and donettes attended camps in California during the summer months ●c Junior Sam Cook exits through the library's detection unit. The installment prevents any library books from being stolen. ●d Dancing to the sounds of "Band X" at the howdy hop are Mark Hari, senior and Judy Mello, sophomore. ●e Speaking for student involvement is US senator Barry Goldwater. "Big Band" jazz pianist Stan Kenton autographs an album for a fan. ●f Being initiated for los hermanos are Jesse King and Mark Fernwalt, sophomores. Other activities during the beginning of the year included open house and pep assemblies.

senator visits school after primary elections

In order to prevent students from leaving the library with books that aren't checked out, a security system was installed. Librarian Connie Mulholland said, "We needed it because of the 3200 books that were taken last year."

Peeling bananas with their toes and stuffing marshmallows in their mouths were the main events during the annual howdy hop. Club initiations continued throughout the first few weeks of school, adding to the beginning of the year activities.

Conductor, composer Stan Kenton and his jazz orchestra were in concert on September 11 in the auditorium. The famous pianist performed various selections from groups "Blood, Sweat and Tears" and "Chicago".

United States Senator Barry Goldwater spoke to the student body on human behavior and current events during a special assembly in the gym on September 12.

'gamma rays' projects light on life of girl

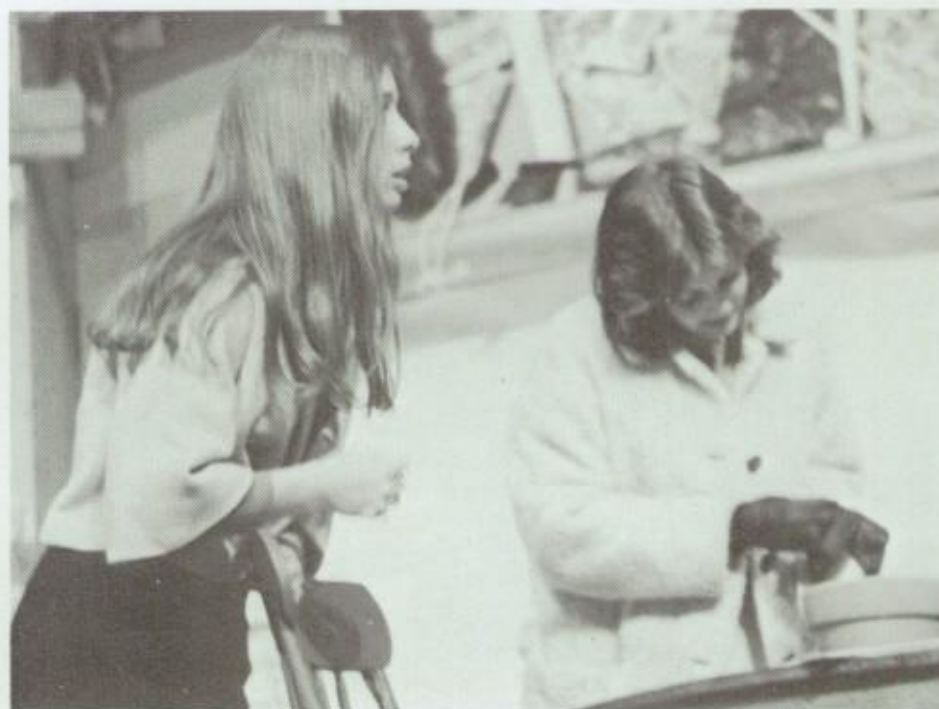

"The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the-Moon Marigolds", shown October 17-19, opened the season of the fine arts department.

The all girl cast was lead by seniors Anne Martinek as Tillie, Stephanie Poage as the mother, and junior Patty Hallmark, who played Tillie's sister, Ruth.

The story was about Tillie, a shy girl, and her domineering mother who creates problems for her daughter. The October 18 matinee featured the understudies.

● a Discussing Tillie and the marigolds are Ruth, played by Patty Hallmark, junior, and her mother Beatrice, Stephanie Poage, senior. ● b On the phone talking to Tillie's science teacher is Beatrice. Tillie's teacher suspects that something is wrong because of her frequent absences from school. ● c Ruth tells Tillie that people used to call their mother "Betty the loon" when she was in high school. ● d Ruth helps Tillie, senior Anne Martinek, prepare for the science contest before going to school. ● e Beatrice becomes sarcastic with Tillie because she is excited over her experiment for the science contest. Beatrice's definition of the flowers that were exposed to the radiation, "Cobalt 60" is that they were "man in the moon marigolds." ● f Ruth scratches her mother's back while they discuss the phone call from Tillie's teacher. He said that Beatrice was running a "concentration camp." ● g Ruth begs Tillie for her rabbit, Peter, and promises her that Beatrice will never find out what they know about her past.

democratic candidate victorious in gubernatorial race

In the primary races for governor, Tucson attorney Raul Castro, democrat, and Russ Williams, republican, defeated seven other candidates. In November, Castro was elected the new governor.

Republican Barry Goldwater was elected to serve another term as US senator. Democratic challenger, Jonathan Marshall, a Scottsdale newspaper publisher, said it was hard to compete with a "national monument".

Bruce Babbitt was elected the attorney general and Wesley Bolin returned as Secretary of State.

returning alumni challenge faculty in club's annual basketball contest

Despite the small crowd, the faculty-alumni game still provided funds for alpha omega, the game's sponsor. The Coronado alumni once again teamed up to beat their former teachers by a large margin, on Wednesday, December 18.

Bob Englebreton was the oldest alumni player, a 1968 graduate. The other alumni cagers were Bill Berger, Kevin Bowen, Jeff Goodrich, Dwayne Kirkpatrick and Mark Moore, 1969 graduates.

a Steve Martin and Marty McCray were players who graduated in 1970. The only player from 1971 was Dick Stolper. The 1972 returnee was Jim Scholz. 1973 cagers were C.J. Ketterer, Dale Rusnak and Cliff Sprinkle. From 1974 were Roger Alarie, Steve Bean and Kevin Drozdowski.

Candy Bebbber was the cheerleader for the alumni while nine of the teachers were rooting for the faculty. During the first few seconds of the game, teacher Marsh Trimble injured his leg.

● a Denise Argentati, senior, and Sue Morgensen, junior, vote for the most "darling don". The contest includes the football players in their younger days. ● b LH members Chris Durkin, Dave Measel, Dan Carey, Kevin Ault and Mark Rolland, seniors, perform as the "dancing donuts" during the bonfire pep assembly. ● c Painting their window are two members of Alpha Omega. Windows had to be done before homecoming week. The thespians won the contest. ● d Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Rossie, Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Seagraves are the first of the honored guests to walk across the field at halftime. committee adds new contests to week of celebration

Royalties, carnations and wishes once again were included in the homecoming plans with the theme "Dawn of a New Day." Throughout the week of November 12-15, contests and decorations were practiced for class competitions. Winner of the "ugly legs" contest was senior Mike Gunzelman and the "darling dons" contest winners were Fred Petti and Dennis Svoboda, seniors. Halftime ceremonies began with a shell of fireworks as the band marched onto the field. Later, the red carpet was rolled onto the center of the field for guests Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Rossie. Last year's king and queen Don Whitlatch and Corey Croft crowned the new royalty, seniors Karen Hasper and Gary Rogers. The football game was lost to Kofa, by a score of 21-29.

The spirit of Christmas grew at Coronado while mistletoe was hung and carols were sung. Activities included a Los Hermanos Christmas Dance while some clubs visited Children's Colony in Coolidge. At the colony, musical entertainment was provided along with food and gifts. The sophomores collected food for their canned food drive.

ACE sang carols to students and carnations were sold by the Explorer staff. Selling stockings, candy canes, novelty gifts and cookies were the members of HERO. To earn extra money, some girls acted as Santa's helpers in shopping centers.

Scottsdale's 22nd annual Parada Del Sol featured three days of events ranging from the longest horsedrawn parade in the world to Ben Hur's chariots. From Holbrook, came pony express riders delivering mail to one of Scottsdale's post offices. Kid's day returned with activities and awards as the proceeds went to Scottsdale Jaycees projects. Marching in the parade were the Dons band together with Scottsdale's other schools. The parade promoted the city as "The West's Most Western Town."

Marching with the band was director Eugene Hanson. ●c Junior Carrie Page dances and performs with the donettes as they walk in the parade. ●d The "Scottsdale-Paradise Valley Bicentennial Commission Incorporated", float began their program involving America's 200 anniversary, in 1976. ●e Los Hermanos "scoopers" clean up the grounds after different intervals during the parade. The scoopers put the remains in a wagon labeled "Junk in the Box." ●f Budweiser's Clydesdales appear at the rodeo and the parade. Each horse is over six feet tall, weighing about 2300 pounds. ●g The parade features the Bill Williams Mountain Men, a costume group. The men consist chiefly of Williams' businessmen. ●h Principal Robert Hendricks rides along side the other Scottsdale High School principals in a mounted group near the end of Scottsdale's 22nd parade.

A scholarship benefit production of "Once Upon A Mattress" was presented on December 12, 13 and 14 by the teachers and students. The play, based on the fairytale "The Princess and the Pea", featured the Homecoming Queen, King, secretary Leona Rose and Robert Hendricks. Former student teacher Sunny Wilkinson played the lead character, Princess Winnifred. Musical director Eugene Hanson led the orchestra.

set, dialogue separate 'la mancha' from other plays

"Man of La Mancha" was presented by the fine arts department on March 6, 7 and 8. Director James Newcomer said, "It has the most exciting script next to 'My Fair Lady'." The play takes place on one set and the props on stage become different things through dialogue and actions of the characters. The cast worked in the band room before they started to practice.

Newcomer also said that he "likes the play because it covers only one 24-hour period and he doesn't like "episodic plays."

Main topics making the headlines as current events included the resignation of Richard Nixon as President and the swearing in of Gerald Ford. Later, Nelson Rockefeller was appointed as vice-president. On March 25 Time magazine's "man of the year," King Faisal of Saudi Arabia was assassinated by a mentally ill nephew.

e For the first time in 42 years, citizens were allowed to buy silver and gold. The law went into effect on January 1. In March, the Highway Patrol and Immigration Service seized hundreds of illegal aliens in Arizona. Other main topics of the year were the price of goods. The fuel and food shortages were criticized by magazines and newspapers. In the Scottsdale area, the price of gas doubled and sugar went up over 400 percent.

Celebrities featured around the valley were the Beach Boys, Grand Funk and John Denver.

freshman squad claims two wins in initial games

After beating Powell Junior High in the season opener 13-3, the frosh sackers used their skills to defeat Tempe 11-5.

Freshman Jeff Anderson proved to be one of the team's top pitchers claiming a three-hitter against Powell. David Hook and Rock Coyle led the team past Tempe as both fielders knocked inside the park homers. Business teacher Robert Burger was the coach.

five wins mark opening of season for varsity sackers

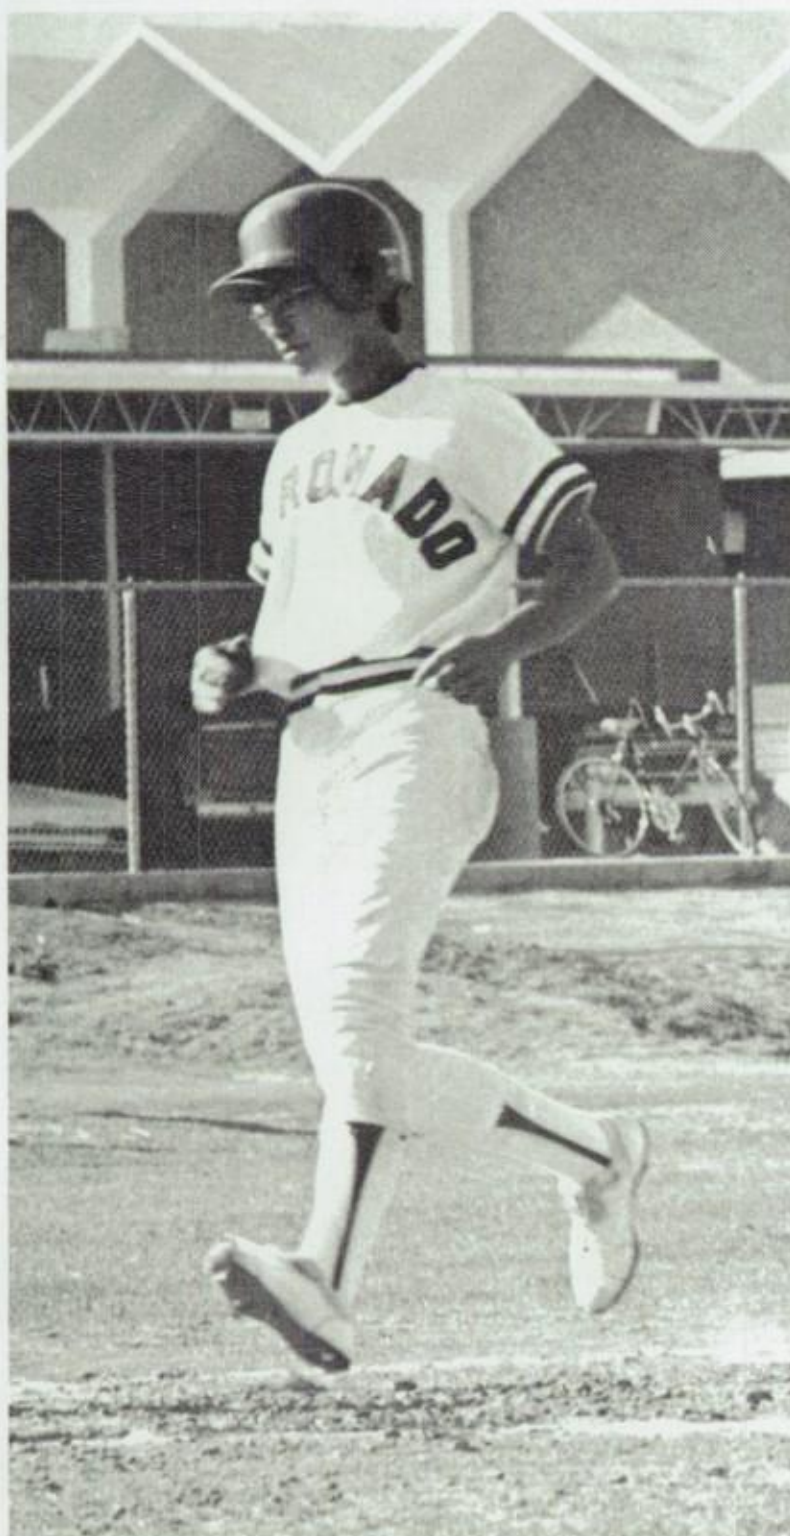

After finishing the 1974 season with a 21-6 record and second place finish in the state, the varsity baseball team began the 1975 season with a five-game winning streak. Coached by Roy Coppinger, athletic director and physical education department chairman, the squad claimed two 6-0 victories over Mesa and a 4-2 win over the Tempe Buffaloes. After defeating Saguario 18-7, the Dons opened the B League schedule with a doubleheader against Kofa. The team won the first game of the doubleheader 7-2 but saw their winning streak snapped as they dropped the second contest to the Kings by a score of 4-3.

Four lettermen returned to the team for a second season of varsity play. Roger Shalley, senior, was behind the plate. Darrell Klueber, also a senior, returned to play outfield. On the mound were juniors Scott Hannemann and Jim Anderson. When not pitching, Anderson played at shortstop.

Other seniors on the team were Bill Reed, first base; Kevin Letson, second base; Todd Schlieff, third base and outfield; Rick Javier, third base; and Roger Barton, outfield and pitcher.

●a Anticipating a possible hit in his direction, third baseman Rob Halchishick, junior, positions himself for the pitch. ●b Making his move toward home plate, Keith Heller, junior, pitches to one of the Saguario players. ●c Rounding third base, senior Todd Schlieff heads for home plate to score a run for the Dons. ●d Taking a lead off first base, junior Scott Hannemann closely watches the pitcher to avoid being picked off base. ●e Following a line-drive hit to right field Mike Brewer, junior, runs for home plate. ●f In a game against Saguario, Mike Brewer awaits the pitch.

frosh tracksters aim to keep undefeated record intact

The freshmen track team, who had an undefeated season last year, continued the tradition by defeating Marcos de Niza and Chandler in a three-way meet, their first of the season. History teacher Dave Archibald was head coach of the frosh team which consisted of such members as Mike Moser and Doug McSpadden, two of the best runners, Brian Anderson, one of the top weightmen, Dave Therrian, a running broad jumper and hurdler Rusty Scott.

Traveling to Marcos de Niza for a three-way meet, the varsity track team won their season opener over Chandler and de Niza. The Dons, coached by James Ryder, also defeated Arcadia before losing to Saguaro 66-61.

According to Ryder, the Dons' strongest events were the distance races. Leading in the mile and half mile events was four year letterman Doug Fledderjohn. The leading sprinters were seniors Pat Fogarty and Ron Rosen with Gary Rogers, seniors, and Bob Buerkle, sophomore as top weightmen. Roy Mosel was top in hurdles.

In February, Fledderjohn won the intersquad decathlon defeating all other teammates to take the title. Coming in second was John Warmus, sophomore.

Coronado hosted the annual regional festival for musicians. Each year a different school hosts the production. Twenty seven Coronado students were chosen to sing in the festival.

Music students from all north central, Arizona high schools competed for the all regional orchestra, band and choir. Tryouts were based on a 100 point system, with very few students receiving over 90 points.

●a Sophomore, Darrel Brown is a member of the varsity mixed chorus. He also was chosen to sing in the all regional choir. Darrell was the only sophomore chosen. ●b A don's band member, Kathy Riefschneider, junior, practices her flute. She also plays the piccolo. Kathy received enough points to play in the all regional band. Only three other juniors were chosen for this. ●c Reading over their music are Scott Croft, Ana Rubert and Jody Taggart, seniors. These three varsity chorus members sang in the choir. ●d Bass player Jean Armstrong, sophomore, practices for the upcoming concert. Jean played in the all regional orchestra.

senior students become active in community projects

Participating in community, cultural events and the annual debutante ball, 13 seniors were in Scottsdale Honors Cotillion. Their Christmas project involved making dolls for needy children which were given to the Salvation Army for distribution. Cotillion also made children's clothes. Trips to the ballet, symphony, and the Norman Luboff choir were the cultural events.

The purpose of the student advisory board was to bring student ideas and concepts to the attention of the School Board. Steve Dennis, Greg Woodall and Tracy Hughes were the board members.

'did you bat' sales campaign slogan encourages customers to buy trails

After the problems experienced with the publishers of the 1974 yearbook, the trail staff chose Pischel publishing company as their new printers. Said Sue Pratt, editor, "They've been very helpful with problems that have arisen during the year."

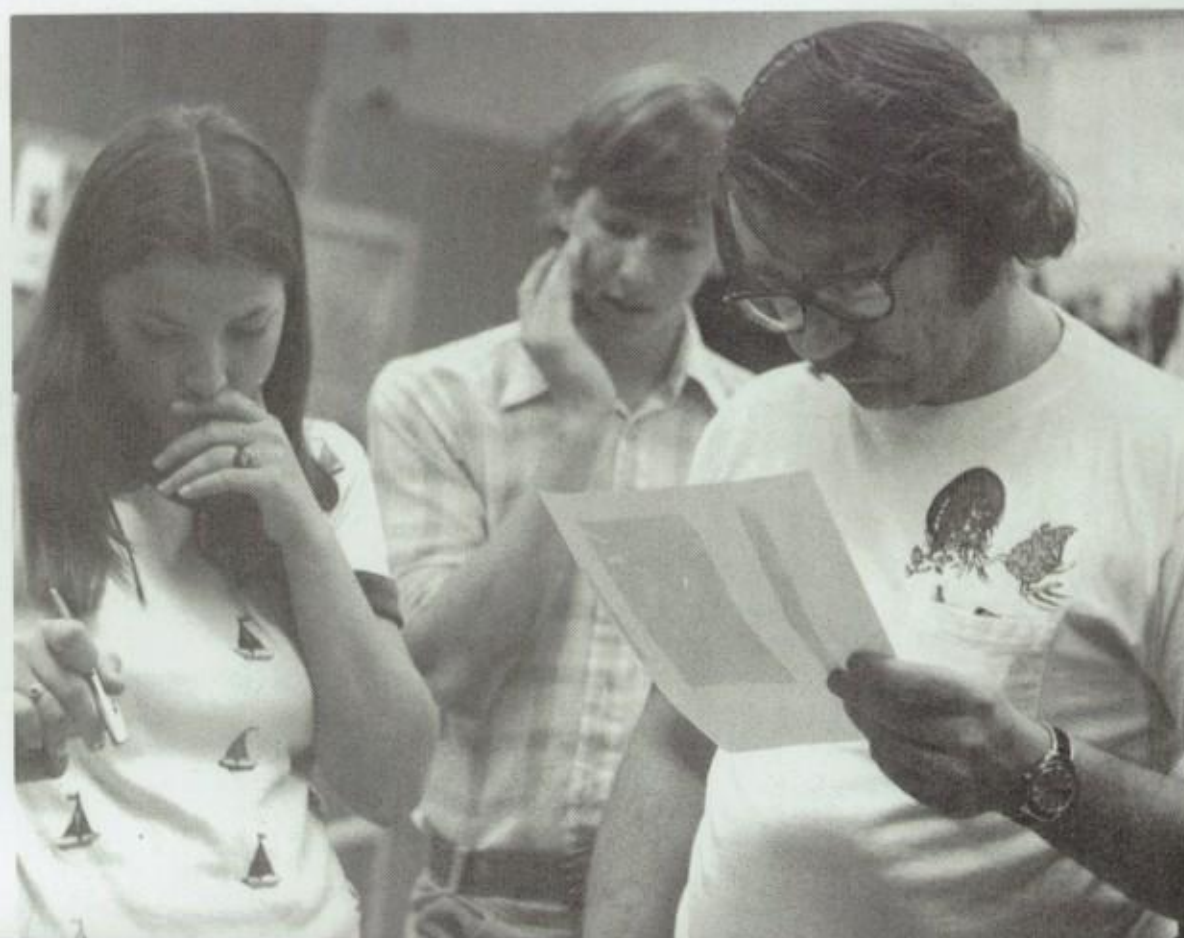

Attempting to bring up sales, the staff initiated the slogan "did you BAT?" (buy a trail) giving "I BAT" buttons to customers.

Along with advisor Larry Halbert, five staffers attended a publications workshop in Flagstaff.

money problems strike newspaper: staff works to continue publication

Lack of funds forced the explorer staff to limit publications and spend more time with money-raising projects and ideas.

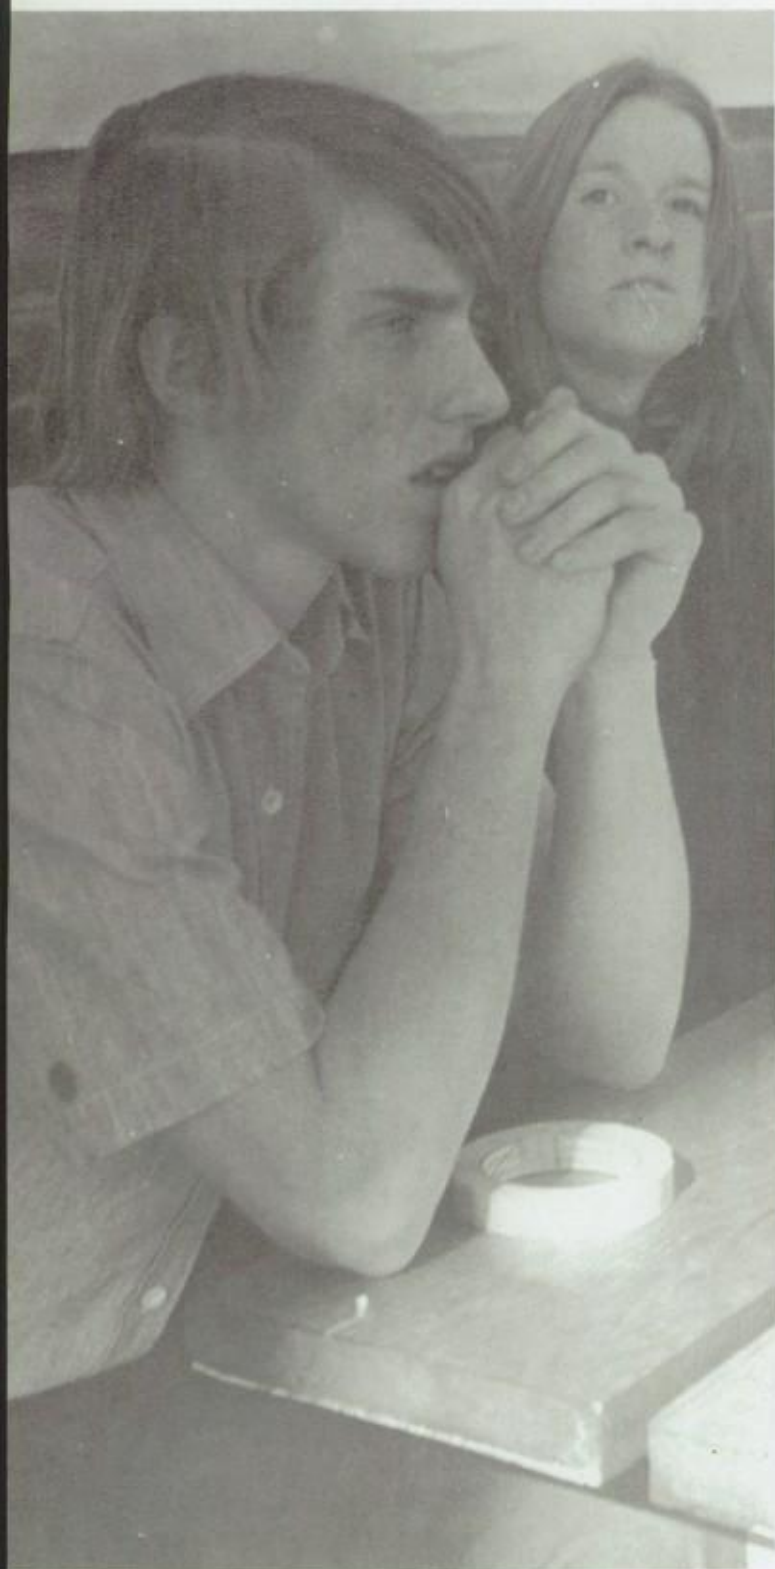

The newspaper staff, under the direction of advisor Larry Halbert and editor Pam Mooreman, senior, raised money by selling 9000 fortune cookies and Christmas carnations. The staff had to shut the paper down at the end of February for a month until funds were raised by a Las Vegas night and the sale of Wisconsin cheese. Two roller skating nights and money donated by several clubs and CHS students' parents also helped support the paper.

Senior Laura Lakin was managing editor on the Explorer and was assisted by seniors Laura Roberts and Kathi Walsh as feature editors and Diana Balazs as news editor. Junior Mark Scarp was campus editor and junior Mike Sherrod headed the sports staff.

darkroom 'special effects' employed by photographers

The use of special effect screens and filters by the photography staff greatly expanded the use of darkroom effects in the yearbook. Photographs of high contrast were created through the use of various filters. With the use of special printing and development techniques photographs that resemble artwork were created. Special trips were often made to shoot needed pictures.

Participating in the annual march of dimes walk-a-thon and the police department's anti-burglary campaign, the interclub council tried to involve itself with community related activities.

In response to a suggestion of the joint icc-executive board committee that all officers be re-elected, icc president Dan Carey resigned at the end of the first semester and decided not to run again. Steve Dennis was elected to finish the year as president.

band, orchestra lettermen donate buttons to explorer

Membership in band and orchestra lettermen is based on the accumulation of points. Points are gathered by performing at concerts, games and pep assemblies. Points alone were not enough to be officially a member. An initiation for all prospective members was also necessary.

Lettermen from the Don's band traveled to southern California with the rest of the band, touring Los Angeles and San Diego.

advanced choral ensemble receives 'superior' ratings at state regionals

Singing at open house on October 1 was ace's first activity of the season. The group performed at the elementary schools, the winter athletics banquet, Valley National Bank and Scottsdale Library. Traveling to the Arizona Biltmore and singing on television were other presentations of ace. A tour of southern California became one of the main events for the singing organization. A concert at the state fair and Arizona Manor were more performances for ace.

On December 20 ace sang to individual students and participated in the Christmas concert. Other concerts were at Scottsdale high.

choralairs raise money to sponsor tour of los angeles, san diego area

Earning money to sponsor a trip to San Diego was the main goal of choralairs, the varsity mixed chorus. The chorus, in a combined effort with the advanced choral ensemble sponsored fund raising projects which included candy and memo board sales. The trip was scheduled to take place at the end of the school year.

Choralairs performed in various concerts, along with the orchestra and other varsity choruses.

Prep boys, prep girls and junior varsity chorus sang off campus for the first time in school history, performing at elementary schools around the district. The purpose was to encourage incoming freshmen to take a chorus class.

All three choruses have grown noticeably since last year," said Michael Merrifield, director.

Aside from giving more concerts than usual, the jv chorus sang at Chaparral high school and sponsored an end of the year party.

Boys prep chorus sang at the Arizona men's choral festival held at Westwood high school in October.

criada members work, raise funds, use money to sponsor annual prom

Raising money for the annual sweetheart prom was one of the main objectives of criada. Fund raising activities included selling programs at home football games and carnations during homecoming. Other activities of the club included helping the bloodbank and serving at the sports awards banquet in March.

Kidnapping new members and taking them out for breakfast started the week of initiation. Initiates were dressed as grecian goddesses and "surfer chicks." A trip to Farrell's and Sky Harbor airport rounded out initiation.

alpha omega traditions provide boost to school spirit

Tradition played a major role in the activities of alpha omega. Each morning before school, club members acted as color guard and raised the Arizona and American flags in the mall. Before home football games alpha omega members decorated the goal posts and during the games they acted as water girls for the cheerleaders. Sponsoring the alumni-faculty game was the main money-making project for the year. They also sponsored a needy family; providing them with food, clothing and gifts for Christmas.

A Mardi Gras celebration was one of the main activities sponsored by the international club. Taking place in February, celebration activities included dressing up in costumes and cooking crepes suzettes. The club was formed as a combination of all the foreign language clubs.

During the Christmas season, the members held a caroling party and sang at neighborhood nursing homes and hospitals. The carols were sung in French, German, Spanish and English. Club members decorated a hall which won first place during the homecoming activities. Other activities included a picnic held at Eldorado park in October and parties which demonstrated foreign cultures.

los jardineros participates in arbor day ceremonies

Beautifying the campus was the primary motive behind the projects of the garden club. Their first activity was the replacing of trees and shrubs that had been stolen during summer vacation. Among the other activities of the club were planting the atriums with flowers, working in the cactus gardens and sponsoring several guest speakers. In February, students were released from school early to attend a special arbor day ceremony sponsored by los jardineros. The mayor was present, for the tree planting.

administration practices different attendance program

Various new policies were introduced by the administration beginning with a new system of scheduling classes. Under the new arena scheduling system students were allowed to choose their own teachers and periods. A changed attendance policy was initiated which resulted in fewer student absences. Parents were required to call before or on the day of an absence to excuse a student. After five unexcused absences the student was dropped from class.

Daily patriotic observance was brought back by the administration. It was reinstated following school board action.

new machines assist students with shorthand

Six new shorthand machines were added to the business department. The machines trained students in a new method of taking shorthand similar to that used in courts. "The business department is one of the more practical departments in school," said Julia Farley, chairman, "because it teaches skills for future careers."

●a Typing students carefully follow their books as they work to complete assignments. ●b Checking people in and out of the health center are student assistants Dorothy Skinner, senior and Diane Duhamell, sophomore. Berrylou Early, school nurse, had the help of various student assistants throughout the day. ●c Leaving the library, Scott Griffy, sophomore, passes through the gates of the newly installed security detection system.

JULIA FARLEY: department chairman, accounting, Typing 2.

BOB BURGER: Introduction to Business, Typing 1; freshman tennis coach, freshman baseball coach.

ROBERT DEUTSCH: Typing 1, marketing.

GERALDINE MATWIJKOW: personal typing; freshman class sponsor.

HERB SHERMAN: business law, business principles, DE; DECA club sponsor; varsity basketball coach.

JERRY SMITH: COE, COP; junior varsity basketball coach.

LYDIA BURY: librarian.
JOAN CAMPBELL: library assistant.

system aids media center by preventing book losses

Aiming to reduce the number of books missing at the end of the year, the library installed a new security detection system. With the new system a soft chime was heard and the gates closed whenever a student left with a book that wasn't checked out.

Treating injured or sick students kept the nurse and her various student assistants busy in the health center. "We have anywhere from 20 to 40 kids through here a day," said Bettylou Early, school nurse. Other duties of the health center included filling out accident reports and recording those students sent home each day. The center also gave physical examinations to freshmen and hearing and vision tests to seniors.

VIRGINIA HARDY: library assistant.
JO ANN MC FARLAND: library assistant.

LE RUE PENNELL: library assistant.
SUZAN RHONE: librarian; senior class sponsor.

BETTYLOU EARLY: nurse.

security personnel patrol campus, help in supervising parking areas

Under the direction of Calvin Bruins, assistant principal, security personnel patrolled the campus providing students and the school with protection and supervision.

Various duties of security included safeguarding locker, restroom and parking lot areas as well as running errands for the school and the district.

CHARLOTTE GLOVER: security.
JOE HENNESSEY: security.
STEVE NEWNHAM: security
FRANK GURAN: bookstore manager

● a Displaying his student identification card while talking to Charlotte Glover, a security staff member, is junior Mike Rolland. ● b Mitch Crowe, security guard, checks out a car parked in the north parking lot. Students were not allowed to park in the northwest section of that lot. ● c Jeane Harbertson, attendance clerk, talks on the phone with a parent concerning student attendance. ● d In the registration office, guidance clerk Marilyn Dugan reaches for a call-in slip. Registration office personnel had the help of student assistants.

MARILYN DUGAN: guidance clerk.
CAMILLA ELLIS: attendance clerk.
MARGIE HAMILTON: attendance clerk.
JEANE HARBERTSON: attendance clerk.

cafeteria workers strive to find menu customers like

Averaging 1700 people a day, the cafeteria, snack bar and faculty dining hall actually served more customers than last year. "We think we've hit upon a menu that the students like," said Peggy Nienaber, manager. More foods such as hamburgers and tacos were served in the cafeteria. "That kind of food seems to go over better," stated Mrs. Nienaber.

● a Cafeteria personnel, Millie Sechrest and Miriam Anselm, prepare one of the variety of menus for Coronado students and teachers at lunchtime. ● b Freshly baked chocolate chip cookies cool in a serving rack before being placed on the counter for the students. ● c Loading dishes into the dishwasher is cafeteria worker Sandra Wieland. Students were required to take their dishes into the washroom as they were leaving.

The cafeteria served two separate lunches daily.

worker crews try to maintain campus beauty

Working around the clock, the maintenance personnel was responsible for the upkeep and cleaning of over 250,000 square feet of school property. Two groundsmen worked during the day and custodians came on duty in the late afternoon. Ray Secchiari was maintenance unit foreman.

As well as picking up litter around the campus custodians kept classes and restrooms clean. Various duties of the groundsmen included upkeep of athletic fields and care of campus greenery.

●a Sweeping up after the students was one of those many jobs of maintenance man Henry Jackson. Jackson was transferred from the 500 building to the 700 building this year. ●b Gene Wrona pushes the chalking machine as he marks the foul lines for the girls softball field.

board votes to allow patriotic observance in schools

After weeks of discussion and debate, the Scottsdale school board made a decision concerning the controversial issue of patriotic observance in the classroom. The board voted to allow a daily opportunity for students to salute the flag following a request made by junior Lori Cox of the board. The board also approved the use of finances for the reroofing of the 200-building. Other proposals before the school board included "pass no record" grades in elective courses, teacher pay raises and limitations on homework.

●a Larry Bell, science teacher and president of the Scottsdale federation of teachers, addresses the school board at a meeting held at Hohokam elementary school. ●b Presenting petitions to the school board, junior Lori Cox substantiates her proposal to revive the pledge in the schools.

seniors demonstrate talents, improve abilities

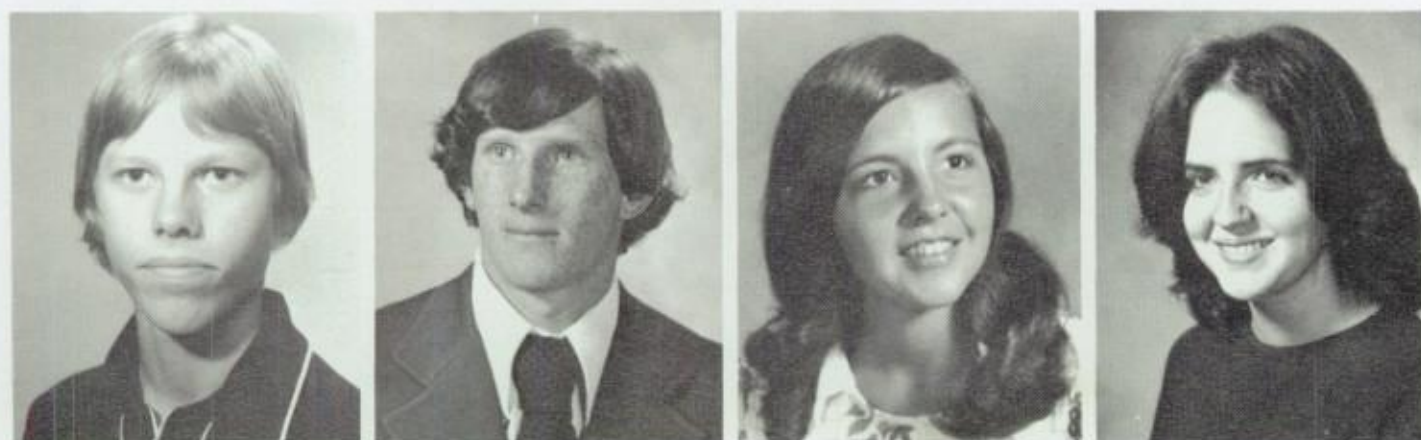

Seniors were involved in a variety of school and community activities throughout the year by taking part in plays, sports and government. Seniors kept busy with projects around the campus. Many hours of work went into the preparation for homecoming, with seniors in charge of activities for that week. Individuals participated in city projects, such as the Haunted House, giving ideas and time for the activity.

Plans for the senior trip to Disneyland were made early. Money and reservations for the bus were taken in January for the trip held in May.

juniors create crepe covered award winner

Handling concessions for the Marcos de Niza game, selling M&M's, Heath bars and Coronado Don stickers were a few of the activities juniors engaged in to raise funds to sponsor the annual junior-senior prom.

During the homecoming week juniors took first in float competition and participated in window decoration. Juniors also conducted voting for homecoming candidates and organized the "ugly legs" contest for senior varsity football players.

Class rings were designed for the bicentennial celebration inscribed with a liberty bell on the side.

● a Wendy Mullen, junior, tears up newspapers and napkins to be used on the junior class float. The class of '76 took first place in float competition for the second straight year. ● b Juniors Sue Kanouse, Emily Overstreet, Gayla Lamoree, Lisa Bain and Amy Kellermeyer attempt to sell Amicae spirit wishes and Criada carnations. ● c Varsity cheerleader JoAnn Martinez, junior, leads a victory cheer at the bonfire pep assembly. ● d Juniors, working with the theme "Dawn of a New Day," create a little Don riding a donkey.

band, chorus rehearse for first performance

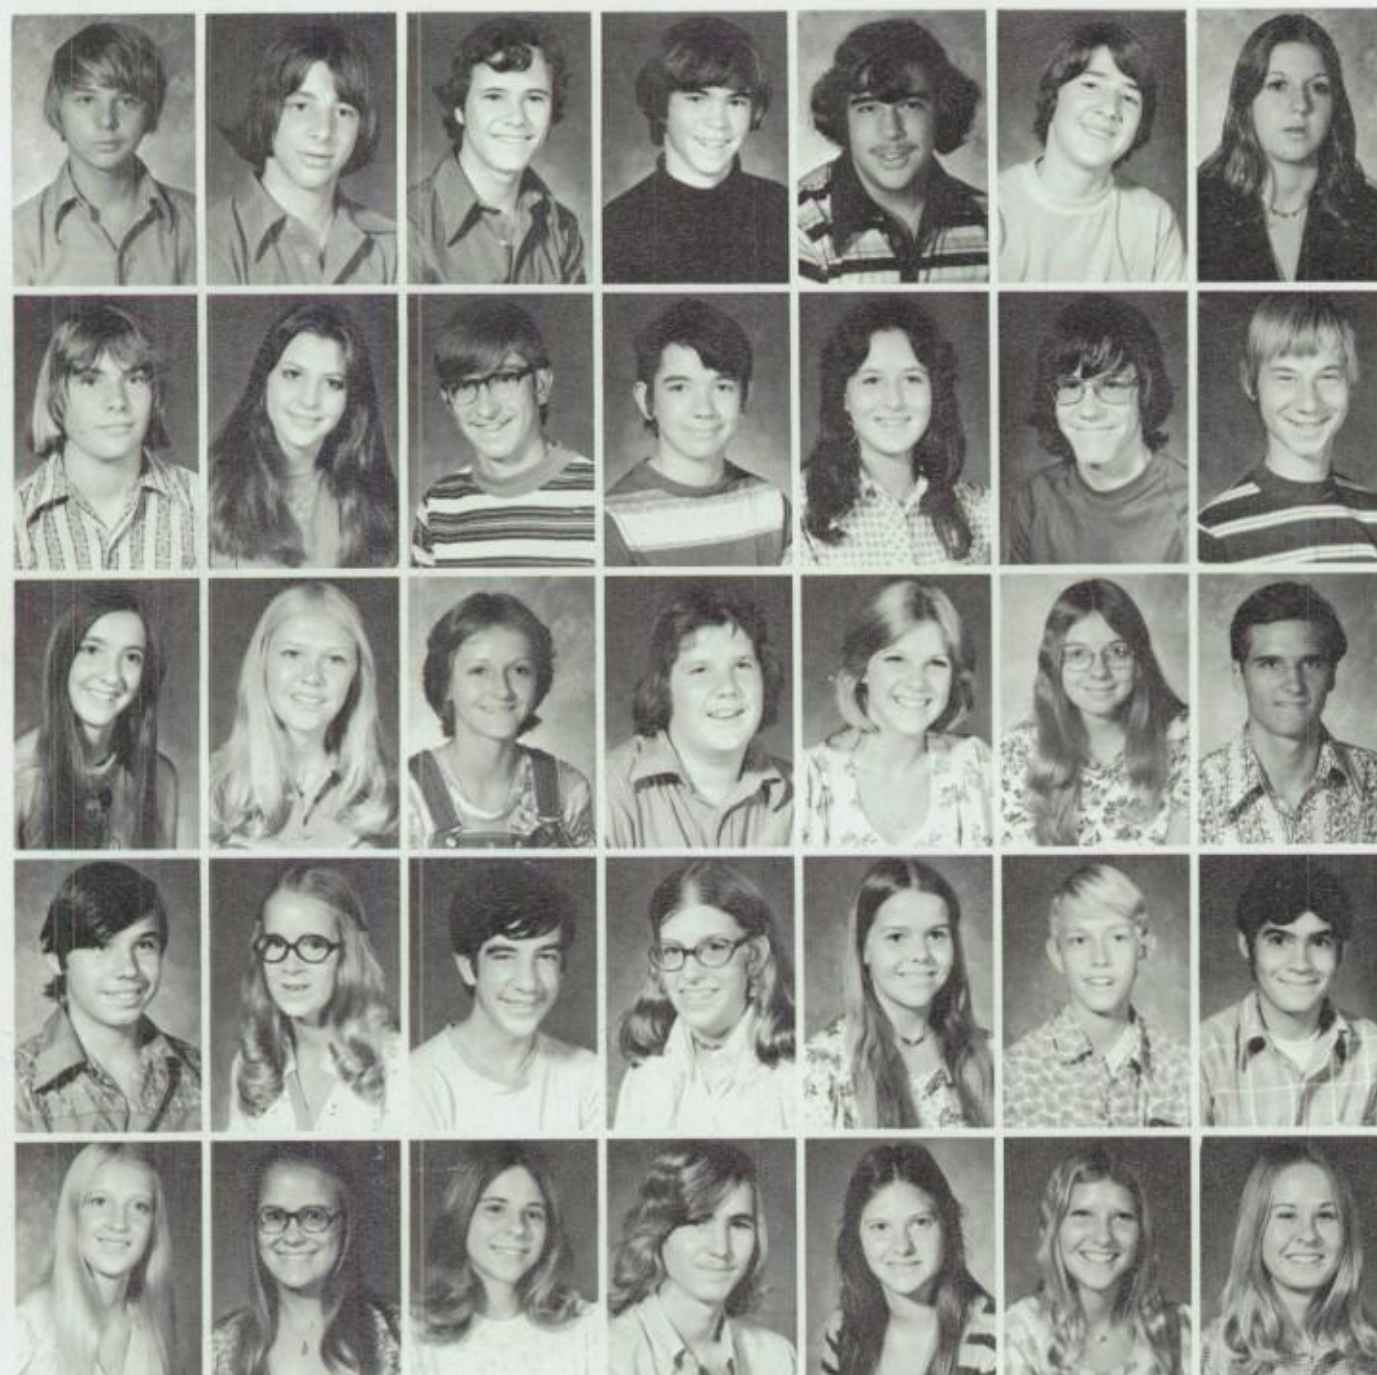

Sponsoring a car wash to raise money for the junior-senior prom which they will host in 1976 was one of the many money raising projects which the sophomores held.

During homecoming week the sophomore class entered the window competition, but none of the class windows placed in the judging. The sophomores also built a float at Connie Pellerito's home. The float tied with the senior's for third place. Class meetings gave students a place to present ideas for various activities.

● a Baritone players practice with the rest of the jv band. The band alternates between marching and classroom practice. ● b Laura Hedin, Julie Mote and Connie Kraft, sophomores, practice with the jv chorus. Their first performance was on January 17.

●a Voting for homecoming king and queen is freshman David Therrian. The voting was held during the lunch hours of homecoming week. ●b During the bonfire pep assembly, freshmen participate in a class cheer. Each class made up and presented their own cheer in class competition. ●c The freshmen designed their window to carry out the theme of homecoming, "Dawn of a New Day."

Freshman activities started with the howdy hop on Friday of the first week of school. Royalty was crowned after the nominees performed certain qualifying tests. Dawn Kennington was crowned queen with Lanny Ward as king.

Elections for the freshman class officers were held early in October. The results were Patricia Morgan, president; Linda McCoy, vice-president; Kay Larson, secretary; Curt Brock, treasurer; Liz Churchfield and Brian Peach, representatives. The presidential election tied two times.

During halftime activities at the homecoming football game, the freshman float placed second in class competition.

...a book i have made,
 the words of my book nothing,
 the drift of it everything,
 a book separate, not link'd with the rest
 nor felt by the intellect, but you ye untold latencies will thrill to every page.

Walt Whitman

goodbye and good night!

a dreamer envisions life as beauty, seeing the mellowness of dawn growing into day

Bud, "FAR-OUT" we'll be seniors next year! Then after that who knows?! You're a great friend and I'm glad I had you in one of my classes. I hope ya have a nice summer. Good luck in all you do. God bless.

Love always,
Kristi Bernard
Spirit of '76'

the spirit of the dreamer lives in viewing life as it should be not as it is . . .

Bud, you ought to keep in touch with the Hiking Club next year.
I will be back with it next year while I am going to college. Maybe you and I can go camping together.

Russell Lowes

Bud, you are the nicest person I mean I have ever met, and that I mean it, I don't put it in everyone's, I don't put it in the next year. Good am glad I got to know
you. "75",
Ken Kucher

Bud,
I hope you had a very good year. I'll probably see you around the golf course this summer or I'll call you to play golf take it easy.

Bill Knowles

Bud,
It's been nice having you in algebra. You've really made the class interesting. Hope to see ya next year in 2nd semester physics and hope you have a great summer.

Pat Ryan '76'

Bud,
I'm really super glad that I met you this year. Trumble's class was really an alright class - in-spite of his smart cracks every-non and then. If he taught another class
I would probably take it. I really wish I'd known you longer. And I hope to see you during the summer. If you ever just not doing any thing call me.
I know your senior year will be really terrific.

Love Always!
